Dublin, November 1.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

THE Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty in the warmeſt Manner, at this Time, when led by an uninterrupted Series of Victories, to the taking of Quebec (the Capital of the French Empire in North America) we ſee the Glory of your Majeſty's Arms, the Wiſdom of your Councils, the Trade and Commerce of your Subjects, carried to ſo unexampled a Height, as will ever adorn the Britiſh Hiſtory, and remain a laſting Proof of the extenſive Power of the Kings of Great Britain and Ireland; when happily like your Majeſty, poſſeſſed of the Affections of their People, at all Times ready to engage their Lives and Fortunes, in Defence of your Majeſty's Sacred Perſon and Royal Family.

Permit us, moſt gracious Sovereign, whilſt rejoicing on the Succeſs of your Majeſty's Arms, to expreſs our great Concern for the Loſs of that brave Commander General Wolfe, whoſe Abilities to conduct, and whoſe Intrepidity in Danger, render his Death a Publick Misfortune, and demand the next Reward to the Honour of your Majeſty's Approbation this Publick Acknowledgment from this Country.

May the Almighty long preſerve your Majeſty's moſt valuable and important Life, that the Happineſs of your Dominions, may, by the Wiſdom of your Majeſty's Council, be eſtabliſhed by a ſafe and honourable Peace.

Hen. Baker Sterne, Cler. Parl'.

His Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I Will forthwith tranſmit this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

AMidſt the loud Acclamations of your Majeſty's Subjects of all Ranks, permit, moſt gracious Sovereign, your loyal and faithful Commons of Ireland to congratulate your ſacred Majeſty on the unparalleled Succeſſes which have attended your Majeſty's Arms by Sea and Land.—Succeſſes, next, under God, owing to thoſe ſpirited Councils and vigorous Meaſures, which have been purſued and executed with ſuch Steadineſs and Intrepidity.

Among the great Events of this ever-memorable Year, none can give your Majeſty's Subjects a juſter Cauſe of Exultation, than the glorious Opportunities which the War has afforded your Majeſty's Troops of inconteſtably proving their great Superiority over thoſe of the Enemy.—Witneſs the Plains of Minden, where a few Brigades of Infantry, not only reſiſted the repeated Charges of their boaſted Houſhold Troops, the Pride and Ornament of France, but totally defeated and diſperſed them!—Witneſs Quebec! which lately beheld a youthful Warrior with unabated Ardour, lead on a few ſelected Troops, and under the Influence of your Majeſty's happy Auſpices, attack and defeat her numerous Bodies of Regulars and Canadians, ſupported by her auxiliar Savages.

Pardon us, moſt gracious Sovereign, if we ſuſpend a-while, our otherwiſe unclouded Joy, to lament the Loſs of that gallant General. How gloriouſly has he finiſhed his ſhort, but brilliant Career, and left a Name, ſo long as Fame ſhall wait upon heroic Deeds, conſecrated to Poſterity, and an Example as difficult as it is worthy of Imitation.

In vain have the French, thus vanquiſhed in the Weſt, attempted to make Reprizals in your Majeſty's Poſſeſſions in the Eaſt, where the Hopes of their General, elated with ſome ſmall Succeſs, have been daſhed and defeated by the ſeaſonable Arrival of an inconſiderable Number of your Majeſty's Forces.

With what unfeigned Joy do we, at the ſame Time, behold the true Strength of Great-Britain, your naval Power, exerted with equal Vigour and Succeſs, and that noble Emulation with which your Fleets and Armies endeavour to excel each other in extending your Conqueſts, and ſupporting the Honor of your Majeſty's Arms.—Theſe Events, attended with ſuch Glory and Advantage, ſhall place your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign, long diſtinguiſhed for its Juſtice and Mildneſs, before the Brighteſt of thoſe Periods which adorn the Britiſh Annals.

Suffer us now, moſt gracious Sovereign, to repeat thoſe Aſſurances we ſo lately made, of our inviolable Fidelity and Attachment to your ſacred Perſon, Family, and Government; and as we have been moſt ſeaſonably informed that the Enemy intend, if they can elude the Vigilance of your Majeſty's Squadrons, to invade ſome Part of this your Kingdom; a Meaſure ſuggeſted by Deſpair, and which muſt end in their own Confuſion; we beg Leave to aſſure you, that, however me may deſpiſe the Attempt, yet ſhall we not omit to purſue the moſt ſpeedy and effectual Means to fruſtrate and defeat it, and to convince the World, that your faithful People of Ireland, are Subjects not unworthy of their glorious Monarch.

E. Sterling,
H. Alcock, } Cler' Dom. Com.

His Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I Will immediately tranſmit this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

The Two following Addreſſes having been tranſmitted by his Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Pitt, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, have by him been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſſes His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common Council aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign.

PErmit your moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common Council aſſembled, to take their Part in the Univerſal Congratulations of your People, upon the Reduction of Quebec, amidſt the many ſignal Succeſſes with which your Arms have been bleſſed.

The manifold Advantages, too conſpicuous to need enumerating, and too important to be forgotten, ſo glorioufly won by the Bravery and Alacrity of your Troops in executing your wiſe Councils, have made it manifeſt, through the different Parts of the World

[Price Three-Pence.]

World where your Arms have been reſplendent, how dear your juſt and mild Adminiſtration hath rendered you to a free and grateful People; whom, animated by a Zeal for your Service, no Dangers can terrify, or Difficulties diſhearten. And tho' all Honour is due to the Memory of that Brave Commander, who ſo gloriouſly fell in the laſt great Enterprize; yet we doubt not there will be found among your Subjects many a Gallant Gentleman, who, inſpired by the ſame noble Ardour, ſhall, with equal Abilities, ſupply that Loſs, and make it rather gratefully to be lamented than too ſenſibly to be felt.

We cannot but, with equal Scorn and Indignation, view an Enemy every where flying before you, yet prepoſterouſly meditating an Invaſion upon your Kingdoms; as if intending to take Shelter under that Arm which they dare not oppoſe.

We cannot ſufficiently expreſs our moſt dutiful Acknowledgements for your Majeſty's peculiar Favour towards us, in having, at a Conjuncture ſuch as the preſent, been pleaſed to be repreſented here by a Chief Governor, who, every Way formed to engage our Confidence, does, in the moſt ample Manner, poſſeſs it; and who, ſo truly meriting that Confidence which we repoſe in him, cannot fail to unite our Hearts, and wiſely to direct our Efforts; to the repelling any Inſults, however inſidiouſly contrived or deſperately attempted againſt your Government, to the diſturbing that Happineſs which we enjoy under it.

And we truſt, that in a Day of Trial, we ſhall ſhew ourſelves ſtedfaſt in that Loyalty, for which our City hath been diſtinguiſhed; and be as ready to make Proof of it as we have been at all Times to profeſs it.

In Teſtimony whereof we have cauſed the Common Seal of the ſaid City to be hereunto affixed this Twenty Ninth Day of October, One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Fifty Nine.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Fellows and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth, near Dublin.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Maleſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provoſt, Fellows and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth, near Dublin, moſt humbly intreat your Majeſty to accept our moſt ſincere Congratulations upon the continued Series of important and glorious Victories, with which the Almighty hath bleſſed your Majeſty's Fleets and Armies.

Whether we contemplate, in Europe the ſignal Defeat of the French Army at Thornhauſen; the Deſtruction of their Fleet off Cape Lagos; their Coaſts inſulted, while their Fleets blocked up by your Majeſty's Squadrons lay inactive in their Ports; whether the Diſappointment of their Hopes in Aſia; whether the Reduction of the Iſland of Goree in Africa; or, whether the total Subverſion of their Empire in America, now happily completed by the Reduction of Quebec; a Conqueſt for ever memorable, as well for the glorious, though unfortunate Death, as the matchleſs Conduct and Valour of the General who atchieved it, we cannot but acknowledge with the utmoſt Gratitude your Majeſty's great Wiſdom in the planning, and in the uniform Purſuit of Meaſures of ſuch Conſequence to the Honour of your Crown, and Welfare of your People, in the Choice of Commanders both by Sea and Land; whoſe Unanimity and military Conduct, ſeconded by the incredible Alacrity of your gallant Forces, have conſpired to the happy Completion of ſo many glorious Enterprizes.

Theſe publick Inſtances of your Majeſty's paternal Care for the Safety of all your Subjects, added to the many Marks of Royal Bounty and Munificence, with which you have particularly honoured this Society, call upon us in the ſtrongeſt Manner to continue our Attention in training up the Youth of this Kingdom in Principles of affectionate Zeal and unſhaken Loyalty to your Majeſty, and to the Proteſtant Succeſſion in your Illuſtrious Houſe.

May the Divine Providence which hath ſo conſpicuouſly crowned the Juſtice of your Majeſty's Cauſe with Succeſs, continue its gracious Protection to your Fleets and Armies, and enable your Majeſty to put a ſpeedy Period to the Deſolations of War, by an hononrable, juſt and laſting Peace.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of the Burrough of Plymouth, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable Lord Barrington: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of the Burrough of Plymouth.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of this Burrough, beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty on the glorious Succeſſes of this Year, gained in every Quarter of the Globe, by the Arms of your Majeſty and your Allies.

The great and ſignal Advantages that have been ſo wonderfully obtained, ſo vigorouſly proſecuted and improved, and upon all Occaſions ſo happily accompliſhed, are the ſtrongeſt Proofs that no Force of the Enemy is capable of obſtructing the Progreſs of your Majeſty's Arms.

And whilſt we reflect on theſe your Majeſty's moſt important Conqueſts in general, permit us, moſt gracious Sovereign, in a more particular Manner to expreſs our Thankfulneſs to Almighty God, for the late memorable Victory in North America; a Victory ſo remarkable in its Conſequences, as we flatter ourſelves will, in all human Probability, oblige your Enemies to accept a Peace, on ſuch Terms as will be a laſting Security to your Majeſty and your Allies.

We can never ſufficiently expreſs our grateful Senſe of your Majeſty's paternal Care and Tenderneſs for your People, on every Occaſion ſince your Acceſſion to the Throne; and it gives us the greateſt Satisfaction to conſider, that the Bleſſings derived to theſe Nations, from your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign, are not confined to the preſent Time, but we have a Proſpect of a future and laſting Happineſs intailed upon your People, by a long Succeſſion of your Royal Progeny.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Council of the Town and County of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tyne, has been repreſented to His Majeſty by Sir Walter Blackett, one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Council of the Town and County of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tyne, in Common Council aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to preſent to your Majeſty, our moſt fervent and ſincere Congratulations on the great and glorious Succeſs, with which Divine Providence hath been pleaſed to bleſs your Majeſty's Arms, in the different Quarters of the known World, during this ever memorable Year, particularly the laſt important Conqueſt of Quebec.

Your Majeſty's gracious and paternal Attention to the Welfare and Happineſs of your People, the Wiſdom of your Councils, the Bravery of your Military Commanders by Sea and Land, fill our Hearts with Joy and Gratitude; yet, at the ſame Time, permit us, dread Sir! to lament the Loſs your Majeſty and your Subjects have received by the Death of the Gallant Young General, ſo early ripened into Glory, dying Victorious in his Country's Cauſe.

May your Majeſty continue to be ſerved with Fidelity and Wiſdom in the Cabinet, and with Conduct and Bravery in the Field; that all your Enemies may be ſoon reduced to acknowledge the Superiority of the the Britiſh Arms in the Cauſe of Liberty, and to ſue for a ſafe, honourable and laſting Peace.

Given under our Common Seal the Second Day of November, 1759.

The following Addreſs of the Magiſtrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Irvine, having been tranſmitted to the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Pitt, has by him been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Magiſtrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Irvine, in Council Aſſembled.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects beg Leave, with Hearts full of Joy, to offer our moſt humble and ſincere Congratulations, on the happy Succeſs of your Arms by Sea and Land, and to return your Majeſty our unfeigned Thanks for your paternal Care and Vigilance, in diſappointing the wicked Deſigns of your Enemies, and ſecuring to us the quiet Enjoyment of the Fruits of our Trade and Induſtry.

We have the moſt grateful Senſe of the numerous and invaluable Bleſſings we enjoy under your mild and auſpicious Government, and are ready to contribute whatever is in our Power to aſſiſt your Majeſty in carrying on your ſalutary Schemes for the Peace and Safety of your Dominions, and for fruſtrating the threatened Invaſion of theſe Iſlands by your Enemies; and no leſs deſirous to be put in a Condition of defending ourſelves, in caſe the Enemy ſhall attempt to land on this open and important Part of the Coaſt, or deſtroy the Shipping in our Harbours, which the Want and Diſuſe of Arms and Ammunition, renders us at preſent incapable of.

Permit us, therefore, to lay before your Majeſty, the defenceleſs State of the whole Frith of Clyde, of which the Trade is ſo beneficial to Thouſands of your faithful Subjects; and with the greateſt Humility to pray that your Majeſty will be graciouſly pleaſed to give ſuch Orders for Security of our Coaſts, and of the Shipping in our Harbours, and for putting the Inhabitants of this Burgh in a Condition to defend themſelves, as your Majeſty in your great Wiſdom ſhall judge neceſſary.

That your Majeſty's precious Life may be prolonged to govern a happy People; that your Arms may continue to be bleſſed with uninterrupted Succeſs againſt all your Enemies; and that theſe Nations may always have one of your illuſtrious Race to reign over them; is, and ſhall be, the conſtant Prayer of your Majeſty's moſt humble, moſt dutiful, and moſt loyal Subjects, the Magiſtrates and Town Council of your Burgh of Irvine.

Signed, by our Appointment, and in our Preſence, by Charles Hamilton, Prov.
